RE: FCM IS OFFERING A SERIES OF CLIMATE CHANGE AND SUSTAINABILITY FUNDING WEBINARS

DATES: April 25, 26, and 27

Do you need funding for an innovative environmental project in your municipality? Are you looking for grants to help your community adapt to climate change or reduce greenhouse gas emissions? Join FCM's free webinar series from April 25 to 27 to learn how their funding can help your municipality take action on climate change impacts and become more sustainable.

Here is a schedule of the webinars being offered:

- Tuesday, April 25, 3 - 4 pm AST: Reducing greenhouse gas emissions - transportation and energy funding
- Wednesday, April 26, 12 noon – 1 pm AST: Funding for waste management, waste diversion and brownfield initiatives
- Wednesday, April 26, 3 – 4 pm AST: Water quality and conservation funding
- Thursday, April 27, 10:30 – 11:30 pm AST: New climate change funding for municipalities

FCM advisors will provide an overview of:

- New funding for climate change initiatives to adapt such as flooding, drought, extreme temperatures, and how to reduce greenhouse gas emissions
- Funding for sustainability initiatives related to energy, transportation, waste, water and brownfields
- Types of projects that are eligible including plans, studies and projects

You'll also learn about:

- The types of grants and loans available
- Eligibility criteria and who can apply
- How to apply for funding

You can learn more about each session and register for any or all of them by visiting FCM's website. Participation is free, but space is limited, so register today!
